

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By Gil Landry, Jr.

As you know, sportsTURF magazine is the official publication of the Sports Turf Managers' Association. I've received several calls and inquiries over the year asking me to explain exactly what type of relationship we have together.

Let me highlight some things we have agreed to do together:

- sportsTURF magazine is the only official publication of the STMA.

- sportsTURF magazine includes a list of STMA activities and events in each issue.

- sportsTURF provides STMA with editorial space for a president's message, chapter news, technical reports, members' news, etc.

- sportsTURF is mailed to STMA members free of charge.

- sportsTURF significantly supports STMA financially.

- sportsTURF assists and supports STMA to develop printed materials and special projects.

One special project currently underway is the "Industry Profile Survey." sportsTURF magazine and Smith, Bucklin & Associates (our management firm) have teamed up to construct and implement a survey to gather information that will allow us to better understand the size and scope of our industry. If you have received a survey, please take the time to complete and return it. If you have already returned it, thanks!

This "Industry Profile Survey" is the first attempt to gather and assess accurate information that will support the notion that our profession is credible and substantial in size.

I have reviewed some of the preliminary results. I am quite amazed not only with the amount of acreage we manage, but also the purchasing power. Bret Kelsey (SBA) and Bruce Shank (sportsTURF) will write the report that will be published soon.

My gut feeling has always told me that we manage a lot of fields and spend a lot of money doing so. Now we will be able to reference an actual study that has some statistical backup.

Others have also had that gut feeling that our profession and industry have a tremendous value and worth. Just look at the June issue of sportsTURF. There was a variety of articles and product showcases. There were 38 advertisers, which is an increase over previous issues. My sense is that everyone is coming together with the realization that our industry has learned how to walk steadily forward quite nicely. Much of this has to do with that solid group of people who have worked hard to foster the development and growth of the profession—STMA and sportsTURF magazine.

Another leap forward was taken because of World Cup Soccer. Recent technological advances have been made by those affiliated with preparing the playing surfaces. Advancements have been made with regard to growing grass indoors and over Astroturf™, as well as developing standards for ball-roll consistency.

As said by Matt Trulio, regardless of how the U.S. team performs, and whether or not the World Cup increases soccer popularity here, the field and those who prepared them will be among the best in the world.
