Talkin' Turf with Steve LeGros

Editor's Note: This is the first sports turf manager profile in an occasional series called "Talkin' Turf."

Steve LeGros, of Grass Stains Productions, co-produced with Penn State's Jeff Fowler the terrific "Like A Rock" video they screened at the STMA Awards Banquet last January. Great job, guys, everyone loved it.

Steve also is the turfgrass specialist for Hershey Park Stadium, a sand-based field in Hershey, PA. Steve, thanks for taking the time to share some of your thoughts and practices for this inaugural "Talkin' Turf."

Q: How did you get started working with turf?
A: I started in 1985 as an assistant golf pro in Orlando, in the 3-year apprentice program to become a teaching pro. You learn merchandising, marketing, along with course management and all the aspects of running a golf club. You are required to spend time on the greenskeeping side so that you are aware of what is done on a day to day. This is when the turf bug bit me! I withdrew from the apprenticeship program and started working at a course as a laborer.

Having no experience, I started off doing the most basic of tasks (weeding, edging, and raking traps). I always asked questions and was willing to take on any new responsibilities. I did a lot of reading on turf and golf course management and eventually became an assistant superintendent.

In 1989 I accepted a position with the city of Maitland in Florida with the parks and recreation department, maintaining sports fields and common grounds. I enjoyed the golf industry but the daily tasks were very repetitive, I wanted something that would be more diverse. And sports turf is that. Each day there is a new challenge.

Q: Who was your mentor?
A: My mother and father, they taught me that whatever you do give it a 110 percent or it's not worth doing it at all. Also, my grandparents said that whatever I chose to do be sure that it was what I loved to do, nothing could be worse in life then having to go to a job every day that you didn't look forward to doing.

Q: What was your biggest challenge last year?
A: Keeping the field playable this past fall, it rained at least 1 day a week if not more starting in September through December. And of course there many games played in the pouring rain, In November we hosted 18 games (seven games in 36 hours) and a drum and bugle corps competition. At this point the center of U1e field was becoming thin and unstable. we didn't have the time to resod before the next game, which was only 4 days away, so we had to find a way to make it safe and playable.

We topdressed from 10-yd. line to 10 yd. line, and from hashmark to hashmark with green sand. We then topdressed 1 ton of Turface on top of the sand, rolled it, and then broom dragged to loosen the top 1/16 inch, creating a baseball infield mix! It wasn't pretty, but the footing was fantastic. The players and officials loved it. The bottom line was that we provided a safe and playable surface.

We played the last 2 weeks in November like that, then we took the 3-point hitch blowers out and... blew most of the sand out toward the sidelines to prepare for the four state championship games that are in the first week of December. The “infield mix” protected the turf in the center of the field.

But with Murphy’s Law we still were about to face the biggest challenges yet. Thirty-six hours before the first game it started to snow. We knew it was coming so we had the rain covers down. We would start blowing it off the covers whenever it started so it wouldn’t have a chance to accumulate, well, we started blowing off the snow at 3 AM on Thursday when there was only a dusting on the cover. Six hours later it was still snowing at 1 in. an hour. At 4 PM it was still snowing and it had accumulated to about 4 in. on the field.

Meanwhile the entire stands were snow-covered only 19 hours before kickoff. We called out the troops, every able body came with shovels in hand, and we built two 50-ft. shoots out of tin and 2 x 4s as the snow was shot down to the track from the stands, skid loaders filled dump trucks.

It finally stopped snowing at 10 PM. With a plow attached to a work cart and the blowers we had the field completely uncovered at midnight and by 1 AM the cover was off. The only thing left to do now was to paint the field! We couldn’t get it done prior to the grooming we did on Monday and it started to drizzle on Tuesday when we put down the cover.

We had 7 hours before the pregame warm ups, (no sweat) all the logos, 3-ft. border, lines, numbers, and hashmarks. Did I mention that there are 4 of us to do this? We were taking the last three 5-yard strings up when the first teams came out for warm-ups.

Q: What advice do you have for turf managers?
A: When you consider what we do, it doesn’t get any better then this. Remember to keep it fun; we are providing entertainment and recreation to our communities. Sports are the most important thing in life, if only for a couple of hours at a time.

Q: How do you get the most out of your crew?
A: I make them a part of decisions, we sit around a talk about how are we going to accomplish the upcoming schedule. Make a game plan. Make it a point every day to say thank you for a great job.

Q: What do you do away from your field to relax?
A: Get aggravated with my golf game. Take day trips.
