

SportsTurf

38

The winning field, tended to by Joshua Koss, is the centerpiece to San Diego Jewish Academy (SDJA)'s 22-acre campus, which sits on a bluff at the intersection of Interstate 5 and highway 56 in the Carmel Valley area of north San Diego County.

8

29

In this issue

OCTOBER 2010 | VOLUME 26 / NUMBER 10

FEATURES

Facilities & Operations

- 8 Winterizing your irrigation system
- 12 Regional Report: Putting turf to bed
- 14 Increasing fleet productivity
- 18 Late fall fertilization
- 20 Snow & ice management equipment
- 22 Developing an environmentally sound industry (and letting people know about it)

Field Science

- 26 The Soil Profile: Wellesley College
- 29 Designing for maintenance
- 32 How one small college maintains natural turf fields

Tools & Equipment

- 33 Newest products of interest to turf & facility managers

Sports Turf Managers Association

- 36 2010 Annual Report

Field of the Year

- 38 2009 STMA Schools/Parks Soccer Field of the Year Award winner

DEPARTMENTS

- 6 From the Sidelines
- 7 STMA President's Message
- 17 John Mascaro's Photo Quiz
- 42 STMA In Action
- 42 Ask a CSFM
- 43 STMA Chapter News & Contacts
- 44 Marketplace
- 45 Advertisers' Index
- 46 Q&A

On the cover: John Ponti had agronomist Joel Simmons and Logan Labs conduct soil tests on his fields at Wellesley College in Massachusetts. See page 26 for the results.