

That's when Congress passed the Americans with Disabilities Act. It means workplaces must be accessible, and no qualified person can be denied the right to apply for a job. But best of all, it means everyone starts out on equal footing. Support Easter Seals.

Before July 26, 1990, this new employee couldn't even get a foot in the door.

