PRODUCT UPDATE

Longer-Throw Gear Drives

The Nelson 7000 and 7500 are designed to provide effective coverage for golf course and sports field applications.

The model 7000 gear drive covers 46 to 64 feet, while the model 7500 covers 53 to 74 feet. Each gear drive features a 4 1/2-inch pop-up height to clear high turf and a bypass valves that standardizes rotation speed. Model 7500 features a stainless steel piston sleeve (an option on the 7000), designed for applications in sandy terrain.

See the FeRROMEc® difference yourself . . . in just a few hours!

“Incredible! That’s the only word for the difference we saw in turf color starting just 2½ hours after Ferromec was applied to our Santa Ana hybrid bermudagrass!” says Santa Barbara (CA) Polo Club turf expert Bill Triller, MSAG. “Ferromec color popped in and stayed in for nearly 5 weeks.”

Bill was especially pleased that he could get vibrant color without heavy irrigation. He has to keep his three fields, ten acres each, a little on the dry side to minimize damage from 1,200 pound horses tearing across the turf at up to 40 miles per hour.

accelerated chlorophyll production without any significant increase in top-growth, mowings or clippings.

No matter what kind of turf species or what kind of site you manage, Ferromec can easily give you attractive, dark green turf F-A-S-T...without Ferromec green-up is natural, achieved through flushing up excessive growth. Just great color!

Always read and follow instructions on the product container.
