

TURF TOUGH ENOUGH TO STAND UP TO A SWAMP FULL OF GATORS.

Tough. "The Swamp," home of the Florida Gators, is fiercely protected by more than just a top-ranked football team. The defensive line of Palmer III, Prelude III and Repel III perennial ryegrasses is the exclusive turfgrass seed used for overseeding the Bermuda grass. These top-rated ryegrasses establish quickly and provide a deep green, lush appearance without disrupting playability. Week after week, game after game, it takes whatever the players dish out – and comes back strong and beautiful.

They're also a popular choice for cool season athletic fields. They outcompete Poa annua and create a dense turf to help prevent player injury.

If you're looking for tough turf that can stand up to touchdowns and Gators, plant the defensive line of Palmer III, Prelude III and Repel III.
